RIVERWALK

RiverWalk is a master planned community consisting of over 3,000 residential units, a walkable town center, a business park, and 350+ acres of natural open space. The mixed-use development is situated on 1,000 acres of natural hardwood forest located along three plus miles of Catawba River frontage, just 20 minutes south of Uptown Charlotte. The RiverWalk community connects an active lifestyle to vast natural and planned amenities include hiking, biking, boating, a regional baseball complex, a state-of-the-art Velodrome designed by Olympic training standards, and hundreds of acres of trails, gardens, parks, and river access.

In Rock Hill, SC, the former Celanese chemical plant has been reimagined as part of Riverwalk, a 1,000 acre community located along the Catawba River. Designed around sports facilities and recreational amenity areas, including the one-of-a-kind velodrome and a BMX facility that hosted the 2015 BMX World Cup and the 2016 UCI SX World Cup, and welcomes the 2017 UCI BMX World Championships this summer. The community is driven by the desire to promote healthy and active lifestyles, with trails for biking and hiking woven throughout the community, and public river access points that are strategically located to encourage use by all residents.
